

Contract Position – Britannia ʔxʷqʷeləwən ct Indigenous Gardener

The Grandview Woodland Food Connection & Britannia Community Services Centre Society are cultivating food-growing knowledge, garden skills, and a connection to the land, through our garden programs. We work with students and community members in our 10,000+ sq. ft. garden areas where folks can gain hands-on food-growing experience and ecological knowledge, while providing freshly grown veggies and fruits for various school and community food programs. The ʔxʷqʷeləwən ct (One heart, one mind) garden surrounding the Carving Pavilion, is a garden full of Indigenous plants that have cultural, medicinal, household, and food uses. The close-by Nexwəys wa lh7áynexw (Transformed Life) Garden provides learning and growing space for students and community members as well as rentable community plots where we can grow food with our neighbours. We also steward the ɛuuqinak'uuh Grandview Elementary School Garden, where we use land-based education to help students grow and flourish.

The Grandview Woodland Food Connection at Britannia is looking for a dedicated gardener to help care for our gardens and engage meaningfully with our community. With support from a team, the Britannia ʔxʷqʷeləwən ct Indigenous Gardener is responsible for the overall care, maintenance, and development of Britannia's Indigenous Food Gardens, which are learning gardens and community gathering spaces. The successful candidate will also be responsible for the development and delivery of school garden lessons and community garden sessions. The Britannia ʔxʷqʷeləwən ct Indigenous Gardener will be working collaboratively with our Garden Educators to connect students and community members to Indigenous ways of knowing; this ensures that Indigenous cultural learning is embedded in all activities and celebrations.

*Candidates who feel they have limited experience are encouraged to apply! The successful candidate is someone who brings with them a passion for learning, an eagerness to grow, an interest in supporting food dignity, and a commitment to realizing their vision through creativity and determination. We are happy to support the right candidate grow into this role. We are committed to recruiting a diverse workforce that represents the community we so proudly serve.
